Alas, poor Rapid Transit hopes! We knew you well.

Once more: Will New York City ever be represented at Albany?

Did Mr. Sulzer "know" about last night's caucus of Republican State Senators?

Come, Mr. Croker, what system of rapid transit was it that railroad you into wealth?

"Senatorial courtesy" is at present displayed in turning the Senatorial back on Tariff Reform.

It cannot be claimed that Congress has set an example in industry to the approaching Cortezes.

Coal was meant to be a priceless blessing to man. It took the combine to put the price on.

"Greater New York" is not divided in baseball grief. The Brooklyn side of it has also lost three straight games.

Apologies to Republican local reorganization: It's the same old Patterson County Committee that it used to be.

Jesse Seligman's name is added to the list of those who have died before the world could afford to let them go.

The great American public has once more been too patient for its own good. Witness the multiplication of Coxey armies.

A great many men will agree with Judge Cowing in his expressed thought that it is unfortunate that the law of the State does not allow the forging of iron heads.

Anti-rapid-transit growlers complain that they don't want to travel in tunnels. Yet they haven't hesitated to get "under ground" in their endeavors to defeat the Chamber of Commerce bill.

The new investigation of the Elmira Reformatory will begin May 11. It cannot be more conscientiously carried on than was that which lately convicted the State and the country of Brooklyn's guilt.

A Mayor in name who is a Mayor in authority; a Superintendent of Police who has a Superintendent's powers. If New York gets these municipal good things from the State Legislature she will, in so far, have cause for rejoicing.

Even if Gov. Flower should unwisely veto the Mayor's Power of Removal bill, he certainly can find no partisan grounds for disapproving the bill to force the New York Dock Department to let out its work by the honest and regular contract method instead of by the shady day's work system.

New York's reform bills at Albany are the people's measures. It is only political good fortune—the accidental possession of a majority of legislators—that enables the Republicans to claim them as party measures. Honest Democrats would honor themselves by supporting these bills.

It is said that Gov. Flower is threatened with the loss of Tammany support if he does not veto the New York municipal reform bill. He will certainly lose the esteem and confidence of the best elements in New York's business and political circles if he does veto those bills. Which loss will he prefer to sustain?

Mr. Sulzer's little knowledge of how seats were to go in the State Senate proved a dangerous thing. It drove the majority into the caucus which, last night, decided to support the reform bills which Sulzer and Tammany most desire to defeat. If the Governor, yielding to Tammany threats, shall veto the bill after their passage, he will find that he has bought the Wigwag's continued favor at the high price of the popular respect.

PROSPECTS OF REFORM.

The Senate caucus at Albany last night seems to have secured the passage of two of the bills regarded as reform measures and pressed by those who are anxious to overthrow the control of Tammany over the city government. But it by no means renders it certain that they will become laws, as after passage they will have to run the gauntlet of the Executive chamber.

One of these bills is that empowering the next Mayor to remove all heads of departments in the city government and to appoint their successors. The other is the bill to partially correct the abuses of the Dock Department by requiring that close corporation, the Dock Commission, to have all work costing over a hundred and fifty dollars done by contract, the same as in all other departments.

The first bill would effectively get rid of the present municipal rule if an anti-Tammany Mayor should be chosen next November. It would give the next Mayor the power, when elected, to remove and appoint thirty-one Commissioners in ten Boards, Police, Parks, Docks, Health, Excise, Fire, Charities and Correction, Accounts, Subways and Taxes and Assessments, besides the seven School Commissioners, a Corporation Counsel, a Superintendent of Public Works, a City Chamberlain, a Commissioner of Street Cleaning, a Commissioner of Jurors and a Supervisor of the City Record.

The aggregate salaries of these officers, with the subordinate positions attached to them in immediate deputies, assistants and others, outside the general patronage of the office, amount to about four hundred thousand dollars a year. As all this amount of spoils would depend on the single choice of a Mayor, it would of course form a powerful engine in the election.

The Dock Contract bill is only a small measure of reform applied to one of the most irresponsible and loosely managed departments of the city government. It is an insufficient relief, but, small as it is, it ought to become a law.

The prospect of other reform measures reaching the Governor does not seem encouraging.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

The arrest of an incendiary in the act of firing a tenement-house at midnight in which one hundred and ten persons, women and children, lay asleep, is one of the most terrible police experiences of the day. No more horrible crime could have entered into the most fiendish imagination. The fire was set in the cellar, underneath the store, and as the most effective combustibles were used, the whole place was saturated with kerosene, which would have spread with fearful rapidity, and all escape for the inmates would have been cut off.

The sole object of this terrible crime was the desire of the proprietor of the store to secure the insurance on his stock of goods, which he had already removed to place of safety. The attempt to defraud the insurance company was the most trifling feature of the crime.

Formerly arson in a dwelling house was punishable by death. Certainly every wretch implicated in this fiendish act should be put to death. It is an active world within the walls of a State prison for the remainder of his life.

A MERE EVASION.

The Carnegie Company is now seeking to avert further investigation into frauds in the armor-plate manufactured by them for the warships by pleading that the payment of one hundred and forty thousand dollars was made on the express understanding and contract that it was to be a full and final settlement of all claims by the Government for deficiencies in the plates.

No money settlement ought ever to have been made until the whole truth was known. But it is ridiculous to suppose that any payment can bar the Government from obtaining justice if the alleged frauds have really been committed. The payment of the money, who, if the charges are sustained, have been guilty not only of barefaced robbery but of an act very close to treason.

WHERE IS BACON'S BIRTHDAY.

Shakespeare's birthday was celebrated yesterday at Stratford-on-Avon. Wreaths were placed on the dramatist's tomb, and many pretty and enthusiastic things were said about him which, of course, he didn't hear. The cable despatches makes no mention of any friends of Sir Francis Bacon participating in the jubilation, and no suggestion of the distinction of appearing with Shakespeare on these anniversaries was really resting there or whether Lord Bacon had been interested in his feud.

It must have made the Baconians feel quite mean to see tributes going to the divine William's tomb which in reality belonged to the other man. Sir Francis Bacon, the distinguished statesman, the author of the essays, the author of the "Advancement of Learning," the author of the "New Organon," the author of the "De Dignitate et Pretio
